WHY US?

We at Burgeonstar* will not just interrupt the status quo, we will disrupt it to restore and improve supply quality while reducing cost. The burden on the supply chain is apparent and is only compounded with the struggle to find new suppliers while under such stress.

Agility and adapting to ever-changing markets have proven to be vital components to our market and investment strategies spanning varied business sectors. Establishing a successful and expanding presence in medical supplies, clinical technology management, construction, real estate development, pharmaceuticals, logistics, food service and hospitality provides evidence of our winning strategy.

Dr. Abdul Alsaadi, our Founder, continues to travel the globe to cultivate relationships and meet the needs of an ever-growing list of potential and existing Investors and Partners. Although headquartered in Newport Beach, California, USA, our reach is global as we pursue our passion for driving growth and building futures while maintaining our commitment to serve those entrusted to us through our products and services.

Driving Growth. Building Futures.

MARKET POTENTIAL

We have diversified assets in high-growth industries with large target markets. Businesses in healthcare, construction / real estate, and logistics / shipping are gaining significant momentum. These industries are profitable now and will continue to perform well. Here are some examples:

- HEALTHCARE: Robust growth to approximately $671.49 billion by 2027 is projected due to advances in technology, increased demand, and an aging population. (Precedence Research, 2020)
- CONSTRUCTION / REAL ESTATE: The global construction market will grow to $8 trillion by 2030. (ICE) Advances in technology, and an expanding emphasis on green construction are driving growth.
- LOGISTICS / SHIPPING: As supply chain costs account for 40% of the expenses found in the medical devices market today, improving performance in this area could boost profits for manufacturers by up to 20%. (Brandon Gaille, n.d.)
- CROSSOVER (Construction & Logistics) - The desire for construction management software focuses on project tracking (73%), job costing (72%), project estimating (66%), improved accuracy (47%), and process standardization/automation (39%). (SoftwareConnect)

Abdulrahman Alsaadi, Ph.D. | Chairman

Dr. Abdul Alsaadi conceives the idea for Burgeonstar to be a center of Innovation and Excellence for his Investors and Customers/Partners. Dr. Alsaadi creates opportunities for companies to revolutionize the way they do business by imagining the future and making it the present.

Dr. Alsaadi’s exposure to a diverse array of business dynamics while working in and with private university hospitals, nonprofit hospitals, government-operated facilities, cancer centers, and service providers granted him valuable insights that he uses to help business evolve and thrive. Witnessing the intense need to innovate customer service toward efficiency, productivity, and profitability inspired his business approach:

Dr. Alsaadi believes,

“A company that understands what the customer/partner needs can then advance the partner’s expectation. This instills the belief that driving growth and building futures are not only possible but highly probable. This is how we elevate the enterprise. Customers are not cost centers. They are partners. Their growth is our growth.”

Life experience inspires Dr. Alsaadi’s progressive educational pursuits, which satisfies his uncompromising desire to gain knowledge, and to identify emerging opportunities for his companies and partners.

Dr. Alsaadi is a Certified Management Consultant with over 10 years of experience in Product Development, Healthcare ICAT(Information, Communication, and Automation Technology), and Architectural Design. His education includes degrees in Electrical and Biomedical Engineering and a PH.D. in Business Administration and Healthcare Management, along with his studies in Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Integration through MIT, and Business Analytics for healthcare Delivery from Harvard.

His recent acceptance into Yale’s prestigious medical degree program is next on his agenda.

With a steadfast commitment to daily self-insight and progress, Dr. Alsaadi creates a business culture that encourages expression of creativity that will positively affect the world. He takes great pride in knowing that his work saves lives and promotes real action towards business sustainability and infinite growth.
